

The Motley Tones

came to be in 2010 when a talented group of musicians, musical theatre actors and Ren Faire performers decided to lend their talents to the world of piracy. Today, they sing a wide variety of delightfully harmonious and oft-times amusing sea shanties and have a very popular local street show. This dynamic group sings madrigals for the king by day, pub songs for the hoi polloi by night, and love songs and sailor songs all the day long. Equally comfortable at pirate festivals, corporate functions, pubs and even children's birthday parties, don't be surprised if you get "roped into" some of their antics on stage and off. And, wherever they are, be sure to bring the wee ones for the sing-alongs and audience participation numbers.

Over thirty times a year, The Motley Tones perform up and down the Mid-Atlantic region, delighting audiences wherever they go, leaving only memories and taking only ... anything that is not nailed down!

Their songs range from acapella harmonies and traditional "call and response" tunes to duets and solo ballads

— all loosely tied to the "Golden Age of Piracy." Their performances are spiced up with pieces of period garb and, all-in-all, they are just plain FUN — but with a set of legitimate musical chops!

With their traveling company of musical marauders, every event is special and no two are ever alike. No one is too young or too old to enjoy the musical antics of The Motley Tones!

The Motley Tones sing an eclectic mix of period and not-so-period maritime tunes, sea shanties, madrigals, love songs and children's songs (to help avoid the "arrrrrr" rating). Their goal is to interact with the audience rather than just perform background or dance music. Since 2010, they have appeared in such diverse locations as:

Beaufort Pirate Invasion — Beaufort, NC
Greenville PirateFest — Greenville, NC
Cary Spring/Lazy Daze and Fest of the West — Cary, NC
Curricuck Pirate Plunder Festival — Currituck, NC
Pirate Day at the NC Museum of History— Raleigh, NC
Midtown Farmer's Market — Raleigh, NC
Pirate Party on the Beach — Virginia Beach, VA
Dare Days — Manteo, NC
Blackbeard Pirate Festival — Hampton, VA
Elizabeth City Pirate Palooza — Elizabeth City, NC
Kiddie Academy of West Cary — Cary, NC
Tybee Island Pirate Fest — Tybee Island, GA
Ocracoke Blackbeard Pirate Jamboree
(marking the 300th Anniversary of the Death of Blackbeard) — Ocracoke, NC
Hubb's Corn Maze — Clinton, NC
Bald Head Island Pirate Invasion — Bald Head Island, NC

Just to name a few!
